

General Johnson Willing to Accept NRA Commission, Wants to Rule It

WASHINGTON — Easing the mentor of the Blue Eagle out of the driver's seat has proved to be a harder job than anyone envisaged.

General Johnson is willing to bow before an NRA commission in theory, but not in practice. And that is what the present warring between Johnson, Perkins and Richberg is all about—the question of who shall rule the reorganized NRA.

The crack-down cavalry officer, with his deeply ingrained military background, wants the power concentrated in a single overlord. He is willing to have a commission govern the NRA, but only under strict army manuals.

The Commission would be a subordinate, not a superior agency. He would still sit in the driver's seat, ride hard in his usual hard-headed way.

Using the army system, he would divide the NRA into five major divisions, each in command of a Divisional Administrator. These five divisional chiefs would constitute the board, or commission.

These divisional commanders would be responsible for their individual departments. But the supreme power would be vested in the man, a Commander-in-Chief.

However, Secretary Perkins and Donald E. Richberg have a completely different approach. They vigorously oppose a militaristic set-up.

They demand that the commission be boss, with the Administrator subordinated to it in the role of Executive Officer. He would merely execute the commission's policies.

The best argument against centralized control, they point out, is Johnson's own "sorry botch" as NRA ruler.

With all his dynamic energy, bull-like physical stamina, and concededly brilliant talents, Johnson has been patently unable to cope with the multitudinous activities of the NRA.

Bossing the entire industrial structure of the USA, Miss Perkins and Richberg contend, is simply not a one-man job.

There is still another principle involved in the controversy.

Miss Perkins and Richberg point to the fact that every other independent Federal agency, the Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Power Commission, RFC, Federal Trade Commission, and others, all are multi-membered bodies.

They can see no reason why the NRA should be made an exception from this tried and established system, and the President is at present inclined to agree with them.

Two-Fisted

Honest Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, is one New Dealer who has lost none of his punch.

Came to see him the other day an attorney representing lumber interests seeking a concession on timber land owned by the Klamath Indians which is under the jurisdiction of the Indian Bureau.

"I can tell you very briefly my views on that contract," said Honest Harold.

"Recommendations regarding contracts for the land are made by the tribal council. Your Clients paid one member of that council $350, another member $400 and made a loan of $500 to another member."

"Lumber companies in the past have denuded the land, caused floods and erosion, robbed the Indians, caused us to spend huge sums for reforestation, and forced the taxpayers to pay out of their own pockets to compensate for the profits going to one company."

"I am opposed to the contract. That is all."

Intellectual Relief

It may not have been that way in the old days but to go to college today is "relief."

That's what the Federal Emergency Relief Administration calls the help it extends to thousands of young men and women who want both employment and education.

3 NAMED FOR LEADERSHIP OF COUNTY PARTY

Leist, Incumbent, G. G. Adkins, Richard Simkins Are Mentioned

LIST IS CERTIFIED

Expect Chairman to Call Organization Meet

C. A. Leist, chairman of the Pickaway-co Democratic executive committee, is expected to announce soon the date for the organization meeting of the newly-named committee. A list of 40 committeemen, 12 of whom are new, was certified to Mr. Leist Wednesday afternoon by William T. J. Howard, secretary of the central committee.

It is believed the meeting will be held early next week, probably Tuesday, since it is thought impossible to get all the new committee together any more this week.

TO PICK CHAIRMAN

The new committee augmented by the addition of 11 committeemen is expected to elect a chairman to replace Mr. Leist, whom it has been reported, does not seek reelection as chairman although he has promised to continue as an active party worker. Some of his friends, however, believe that Mr. Leist would continue as chairman if the honor should be voted to him again. For that reason there has not been much talk of a successor.

However, the party's nominees meeting last week to select the new executive committee voted to endorse George G. Adkins as the new committee chairman. Whether Mr. Adkins would accept the chair has not been learned but it is believed Mr. Leist again wants the chairmanship. Mr. Adkins will not stand in his way. Both men, it is believed, stand bound for absolute harmony within the county organization.

It has also been reported that some of the younger members of the new committee are back of Richard Simkins, local lawyer, for the chairmanship. Whether Simkins aspires to the chair is not certain but it is said he has considerable support within the committee.

Anyway, the new chairman will be elected when Mr. Leist calls the meeting.

G. O. P. MEETS FRIDAY

County Republican leaders will meet Friday evening in Harry B. Weaver's office to organize by naming the chairman and secretary of the new executive committee. C. C. Chappelle, incumbent, does not seek reelection, he has stated.

Parley of Roosevelt and Sinclair Draws Interest

Conservatives of Party Would Repudiate California Radical, While Liberals Would Support Him.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. — Upton Sinclair's overwhelming victory in the California primary is giving the Democratic high command a series of political headaches.

Diligent canvas of Democratic sentiment in the capital today disclosed a state of vast confusion and dismay over the prospect of having to support the Socialist-turned-Democrat and his radical epic (End Poverty in California) platform for the government.

Democratic strategists are badly divided upon the course that the party should pursue.

WOULD REPUDIATE

The ultra-conservatives favor outright repudiation of Sinclair and his platform, believing that such forthright action would assure the country that the Democratic party has not "Gone Socialist" and would appeal to a large body of conservative-minded voters.

The radical fringe welcomed Sinclair's nomination as an extension of the New Deal, and pointed to the impressive figures by which Sinclair was nominated to support their contention that the country is really marching out in front of the New Deal toward experimental goals.

In between these two elements apparently rested the considerable bulk of Democratic opinion, uneasy, bewildered, and uncertain of which course to take concerning Sinclair's candidacy and all that it connotes.

Under the circumstances, Democratic eyes turned almost unanimously in the direction of President Roosevelt. He will sound the keynote of the party attitude toward Sinclair. The forthcoming conference between the two at Hyde Park will be watched closely by party leaders.

GO ON 'HIS OWN'

The betting in Washington is that Mr. Roosevelt will see Mr. Sinclair, chat amiably with him about many things other than California politics, and then leave him to paddle his own canoe toward the governorship of California.

WALLACE MAY ASSIST MELL

Tugwell, Too, Mentioned As Possible Speaker; Oppose Renick Dunlap.

Announcement has been made in the nation's capital that either Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace or Assistant Secretary Rexford Tugwell will deliver a campaign speech in late September in the interest of Congressman Mell G. Underwood, who is seeking his seventh term as the representative of the 11th Ohio district.

It has not been determined which will speak, nor have the date and location been settled.

According to the Washington report, the contest between Congressman Underwood and Renick W. Dunlap is one of the most important tests of the "New Deal" in the middlewest. Mr. Dunlap has acted as assistant agriculture secretary in the cabinets of Presidents Coolidge and Hoover.

Senator Simeon Pess is expected to do what he can to get Mr. Dunlap into congress. His speech at Kingston's centennial two weeks ago was believed a help to the Pickaway-twp man.

BILBO TAKES LEAD

So close is the race that the official tabulation may be necessary to determine who is ahead when all returns are in.

The latest vote stood: Bilbo, 64,236; Stephens, 64,180; Collins, 41,342; Harper, 1,422.

NEW RECORD SET AT FAIR

Governor's Day Today Expected To Draw Another Big Attendance.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 30. — Although Ohio state fair officials today could not estimate the total attendance at the fair yesterday, the usual peak day for the exposition, it was believed that a new record for crowds had been set.

The throngs, arriving early, necessitated the blocking off of automobile traffic in the grounds by 10 a. m. The evening horse show was a complete sell-out, with hundreds being turned away, and a capacity crowd filled the grandstand in the evening to watch the nightly "Forward America" pageant.

Today will be Governor's Day at the fair, with an inspection tour and luncheon planned for the chief executive and his cabinet. In the afternoon the governor will witness the $1,500 Governor's Stake race.

Percheron horses, Poland China and Berkshire hogs, and Hampshire and Cotswold sheep will be judged on the morning judging program, with Aberdeen and Angus cattle being put in the ring at 10 a. m.

FORD TO BUILD STEEL PLANTS

To Spend 13 Millions at Dearborn; Will Be Independent of Steel Mills.

DETROIT, Aug. 30.—Henry Ford today declared his independence of steel manufacturers, announcing that he will spend $13,000,000 to build two new steel mills at Dearborn, to make all the steel needed for his vast industrial empire.

The Ford statement said the construction program will take about eight months and will cost between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000. When the mills are ready Ford can produce 3,000 cars a day without buying a pound of steel in the market," the announcement said.

SUPPLY ALL NEEDS

The plants are expected to turn out 1,500 tons of finished steel a day—36 different kinds, to supply every need of the Ford Rouge plant and the other far flung units of the Ford organization.

The move will place Ford in a position enjoyed by no other large manufacturer in the world—completely independent of the steel manufacturing concerns. For some time Ford has been threatening to do this, and for several years has maintained equipment for making special kinds of Ford steel at Dearborn.

The expense of the project is estimated at $650,000 for new buildings, $6,000,000 for steel making equipment—a blooming mill, reheating furnaces, roughing.

F.D.R. MUST ACT TO HALT STRIKE CALL

Walkout of 600,000 Textile Workers

ORDERED FRIDAY

Garrison Still Trying to Halt Strike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The nation's cotton textile workers, estimated to number 600,000 today were ordered to walk out of the mills Saturday, Sept. 1, at 11:30 p. m. in protest against alleged "intolerable conditions" forced upon the workers.

Several hundred thousand additional workers in the woolen, worsted, silk and rayon industries are expected to follow the lead of the cotton textile workers and declare sympathetic strikes.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Intervention by President Roosevelt today seemed the only action possible to avert the threatened strike of 600,000 textile workers as employers rejected the peace overtures of federal agencies.

The strike call, ordering the walkout for Friday midnight, is to be issued from the capital at noon.

In spite of the apparently hopeless situation, Lloyd Garrison, chairman of the National Labor Relations board, continued his efforts to bring employers and workers together. He proposes a committee of three to consider the demands of the workers and make recommendations in the present situation and for permanent consideration of labor questions arising in the industry.

EACH PICK MEMBER

According to Garrison's plan, the labor department, the labor board and the recovery administration would name one member each to the committee.

Garrison's invitation to the employers was refused by George S'loan, chief of the Cotton Textile Institute at New York, and by William D. Anderson, for the American Cotton Textile Manufacturers association.

As soon as Sloan's refusal was received here, the workers' strike committee was called to action by chairman Francis J. Gorman, a vice-president of the United Textile workers. He said:

"Now the air is cleaned. The covers were refused by owners have definitely and finally refused to meet in conference with us at the invitation of Chairman Garrison. The strike call therefore will be

Millions In Gold Taken to Denver

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Tolling eastward toward Denver in an extra-heavily guarded train today was a valuable cargo—a cargo of gold, big enough to pay more than half of the national debt owed by European nations.

The gold, owned by Uncle Sam, is being transferred from the San Francisco mint to the mint at Denver, Colo. It was the largest gold movement in the world's history.

Total value of the shipment was kept secret by government agents. But it was the first of four similar shipments, the total of the cargoes being $2,000,000,000. Possibly the first shipment represented about $500,000,000, it was said.

The other three shipments will be made next month.

ACTIONS GUARDED

Elaborate plans to prevent a hijacking were taken by officials of the treasury department, who supervised the transfer. Three hundred San Francisco police officers, a detachment of soldiers from the presidio, secret service men and postal agents guarded the loading of the train.

Machine guns bristled from every window in the mint while the cargo was being placed into special government trucks. En route to the railroad yards, several blocks distant, the trucks were convoyed by a "small army." The gold, being shipped in hulkion, was laced aboard three specially barred express cars.

The soldiers were armed with ayonetted guns, the police with rifles and tear gas bombs, and the agents with sub-machine guns.

The train's route was kept secret.

Hundreds of government guards have been stationed along the route.

Daniel Haggerty, superintendent of the San Francisco mint, said the transfer was effected because the mint here soon will be shifted to a new location and the government was unable to find a temporary storehouse. He denied the transfer was being made because of fear of earthquakes or an attack from a foreign power upon the port of San Francisco.

issued tomorrow, in accordance with the union's convention mandate.

The strike convention ordered the walkout to be set "On or before Sept. 1."

In Sloan's reply he regretted "the institute is not willing to attend the conference to explore the possibilities of averting the strike upon some just basis and in the public interest."

Gorman and other leaders were warning the workers to "beware of Communist intrigue."

The American Federation of Labor through President William Green pledged that organization's aid to the workers, whose organization has less than a million dollars in its "war chest."

FEAR COMMUNISTS

The employers speaking through Sloan insist the workers are preparing not to strike against the employers but against the textile code and the Recovery administration set up by the president.

To this Gorman took exception with the following statement:

"They cannot put us into the position of striking against the code. We are striking against intolerable conditions prevailing in spite of the code."

The strike has been threatening since early summer when the workers demanded shorter hours, increased pay and elimination of the "stretchout," when Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, issued an order allowing the employers exemptions under the textile code.

To stave off the strike, Johnson agreed to a four part study of the complaints of the workers, with accompanying recommendations. These never have been completed, or announced from Johnson's office.

By WILL ROGERS

A LOT of folks came back from Europe with different ideas about what they saw over there, and most of the home folks will have to spend the rest of the season listening to them. Well, I met some folks on the ship coming back that hadn't seen anything but politics, and there's so much of that to see at home that they were grouchy about spending so much money to go over and back. Others saw a lot of pictures, and once in a while you met one that had seen Europe.

Well, I heard about one guy that had a pretty good time. He was an automobile salesman from somewhere in Wisconsin, Madison, maybe it was. He got to talking to a real earnest school-teacher on the ship coming back, and she said to him kinda enthusiastic:

"Oh, did you see the beauties of the Alps?"

"Yes, I seen 'em," he says.

"And can you express what you thought of them?"

"Well," he says, "to tell you the truth, I didn't think they could hold a candle to our beauties in Wisconsin. They had their skirts too long, and they lacked class all around, I thought."

And I guess that school-teacher hunted up somebody else to talk about beauty to.

Wife's Hobby Helps Hubby

Our Loan No. 15-0198—is "the story of a traveling salesman," whose work takes him on long trips away from home. With time on her hands, and wishing to do something to help her husband, the wife decided to open a millinery shop. She selected a desirable location and convinced her husband it was the wise thing to do. Together they obtained the necessary money from The City Loan. This lady now has the leading millinery store in the community. She likes the work and derives a splendid income from her hobby; and thereby helps to relieve the load on her hubby. P. S. The loan was promptly paid in full. What you do with the money you borrow is your business, but this example goes to show what one smart lady did. You can do it too.

MUNICIPAL ECONOMY

WOEBURN, Mass.—When it comes to balancing municipal pride against dollars and cents the city fathers here grab the dollars. They found that listing the City Hall under a Winchester telephone number gave them cheaper rates into Boston—just half the Woburn rates—so now the municipal edifice is, figuratively at least, in Winchester.

All Kids Have Chance to Win Ad Carter's Awards

BOYS AND GIRLS!

The Herald has important news about the big Prize Letter contest on "What I'd Do with $100" now being run every day in Ad Carter's famous comic strip "Just Kids".

From the thousands of letters he has received in this contest, Ad Carter has forwarded some to us to show you boys and girls the kind of letters which he thinks have a good chance to win the prizes. Excerpts from the letters are printed below.

These letters are not assured of winning a prize, but they are among the best that have come in. Read them and see if you can write a better one. Boys and girls who have already written letters will be allowed to write another letter in the contest if they wish. If any of the letters below gives you a better idea than the first one you had, just sit down and write Ad Carter another letter.

SAMPLES LISTED

Here are the sample letters Ad Carter has sent us. The first is from a boy from Pennsylvania and reads:

"If I had a $100, I could do a lot of things. I could pay my brother's doctor bill of $20.00 and my father's lodge bill of $4.50 and get my mother and father shoes for $5.98. My mother's back rent would cost $16.00. I need pants which cost $1.69. I could get shoes for my three sisters for $5.37 for all, and get myself and three brothers shoes at $7.92 for all. I could pay the light bill of $3.00 and pay the water bill of $4.50 and pay the other doctor bill of $2.00 for my brother. He had two doctors the three days he was sick. I would give my mother the rest of the money to get me some clothes."

This one came from a boy in Indiana:

"If I had a hundred dollars, it would be almost impossible to express how happy I would be. The very first thing I would do would be to give fifty dollars to my parents to pay on my father's hospital bill and other bills. Next three dollars would go to the Star Ice Fund. I would give $1.00 to each of my three brothers. The stores are selling bicycles very

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 times every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "nopes" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

cheap so $20.00 would get me one. My dog would like a collar and some flea powder for his case of fleas. Six dollars for books for books for school and magazines and a dollar for my dog would be $7.00. Each of my parents would like a gift of $5.00. I am crazy about sports, so I think $5.00 might take care of some things. And the rest, I would put in the bank."

A boy out West writes:

"If I had $100, the first thing I'd do would be to buy all the ice cream that my brothers and I could eat. Then I'd buy a little wagon for my brother and buy some feed for the little calves my brother and I have raised."

"We have had such a dry year and the last two weeks the hot winds dried up everything on our farm. There is no feed for cattle."

"My brother is ready to go to high school and he is thirteen years old, but my Dad is afraid he can't pay to send him so if I had the money, I'd let him have some of it, and I'd get some flowers for my aunt in the hospital. She took care of my brother and when my mother was sick. I would like to make her feel better."

"We will need some coats and shoes for this winter and I'd keep back a little money to buy Christmas presents."

MAY WRITE ANOTHER

Now you should have a good idea of how to write a letter that will win Ad Carter's attention. Remember that if you have already written one letter and have figured out a better one for the $100, you may send in another letter.

The prizes in the contest are: First prize $50; second prize $25; third prize $15; fourth prize $10; and five prizes of $5.00 each and 75 prizes of $1.00 each.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

One of Those Nature-Faking Yarns

By IRVIN S. COBB

A GENTLEMAN of social habits came home one evening to be confronted by a wife bristling with indignation. No sooner had he opened the front door of the apartment than she fired a blast at him.

"Why, my dear," he said, "what's the matter?"

"Matter enough," she answered. "I thought you told me that you were going down to Belmont track yesterday afternoon with a party of men!"

"That's right," he said, "what of it?"

"Then perhaps you can explain this," she said. "This morning I sent that suit you wore yesterday out to be pressed. But first I went through the pockets and in one of the pockets I found a card and on the card was written in your handwriting: 'Evelyn. 2161 Fitzroy.' Now then, what does this mean?"

"My dear child," he said soothingly, "the thing is simplicity itself. 'Evelyn' is the name of a racehorse—a friend gave me a tip on her. And '2161' were the odds on her for first and second place. 'Fitzroy' is the name of the jockey. Surely you've heard of Fitzroy, the famous jockey? Now then, aren't you ashamed that you suspected me?"

The lady admitted that she might have been a bit hasty in jumping at conclusions. She dried her tears and peace descended upon the household.

On the following evening the husband entered the flat at peace with the world and whistling a merry catch. An ominous silence greeted him.

"Hello, dearie!" he hailed. "How do you feel?"

"I'm quite all right, considering," answered his wife, frigidly.

"Any mail here for me?"

"You might look and see."

"Anybody drop in today?"

"No."

"Has anything happened at all?"

"Well," she said, "about three o'clock this afternoon your race-horse called up and asked for you."

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

I RECKON it's been mentioned before that women are peculiar. It's even been noticed that they have a funny way of making things miserable for other women. Another thing, though. You know no woman ever wants to wear anything that's exactly like anything that any other woman wears. It might be a little bit like, but it can't be just the same. Almost every husband knows how something has got to be done about it if the wife sees another woman with a hat like hers.

Well, there was two families that was great friends, in Chicago. One day Jones came home, and his wife was feeling terrible.

"That new hat I got is no good," she says. "Mrs. Smith has got one exactly like it."

"That's too bad. You'll have to get another one."

But that didn't satisfy the wife at all. She felt terrible all evening. Next day when Jones came home from work, his wife was singing all around the house.

"Did you get you a new hat?" says Jones.

"No, not yet. Tomorrow will do all right for that. But I fixed Mrs. Smith, all right. I ain't unhappy about it any more."

"How's that? You ain't gone and bawled her out, have you?"

"Not a bit. That's a man's way of doing. What's the use bawling her out and making her sore at us? No, I just give my new hat to Mrs. Smith's cook."

Didn't Have Stuff' - Rowe; Walsh Scoffs at Tigers

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service
Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Simply without extenuation, Lynn "Schoolboy" Rowe, the man one moment seemed immune to the next had been all too vulnerable, took time this morning from the preparation of a radio broadcast to explain why it was that he was out of his seventeenth victory and a new American League record over in Philadelphia yesterday.

"I just didn't have it," said he, while he went on to amplify statement with a few details, 13 to 5 victory of the Athletics their twelve resounding and audible base hits in less than 3 innings made this unnecessary. As a five-word explanation, like an old fashioned night. It just about covered everything. But five thousand words didn't explain how his club, the old Tigers, can contrive to bring third in the World Series of 1934.

BE NO SECOND
"I didn't have it," said he, while he went on to amplify statement with a few details, 13 to 5 victory of the Athletics their twelve resounding and audible base hits in less than 3 innings made this unnecessary. As a five-word explanation, like an old fashioned night. It just about covered everything. But five thousand words didn't explain how his club, the old Tigers, can contrive to bring third in the World Series of 1934.

These defects didn't seem temporary. Greenberg at first base is odd, rough awkward man in his throws but either doesn't move five feet in any direction. Rogell, the shortstop, seems to have an unerring eye for playing almost all badly. These tendencies are fatal. Conceding the possibility that both men may have had a bad day, I find it hard to believe that they were able to make as tough as they were in twenty-four hours. I'm sure I have taken a life time.

However, the liabilities cited are the physical side and, such, are to tolerance. Whereas, conceding this behavior of the ball club as much as a whole and see if we can reconcile it with championship baseball.

Power Behind Barney's Blows

a runner in first game, an unpardonable performance in view of the fact that his club was three runs in front. As a result of the faux pas, the Athletics finished the inning one run in front.

Doljack, in the second game, attempts shoestring catch of a drive that should have been played for a single. The result: Two bases for the hitter and, ultimately, five runs for the inning.

Greenberg forgets there is a runner on first base and plays back on the grass in the first game. In the same game, he runs blindly into an obvious cut-off trap on a throw from the outfield.

Nobody covers second base on Warbler's steal in second game, the incident leading up to the tying runs. Goslin and Rogell let fly ball drop in short left; Greenberg and Doljack let fly ball drop in short right.

Doubtless, there was more but this ought to do for one day. Rowe, by his own admission, hasn't been right since beating the Yankees here early in the month and didn't have a thing yesterday. But, in some respects, he had as much as his ball club.

It's a club whose success is easily understood. All you have to do is read the batting averages, starting at the top—and staying there. It's a power club, with some good pitching and two ranking stars, Gehring and Cochrane, and if it needed any more for purposes of this American League field, the fact has never been unduly conspicuous.

Of course, in spots it is still very young and untried. Some of them probably aren't altogether ready. And some, I think, never will be.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

A BALL GAME OF REAL INTEREST will be played next Tuesday when the Coca Cola players who were under Frank Lynch's wing five years ago when the bottling company won the city title from the Utilities tangle with players who represented the utilities at that time. It should be a lot of fun. The Coca Colas won the series then in two games both scores being 2-1.

George Dudley Courtright, who managed, played right field, kept score, and did about everything else to help make the league a success, is now embarking on an effort to obtain and all-star team. Courtright is putting questionnaires into the mail today to all managers. The team will be announced at the annual banquet.

Howard White, who is expected to go great guns this fall on the Ohio Wesleyan gridiron, returns to school Sept. 10—His brother, Dean, is expected to go places too as a sophomore. Frank Wilton, Miami coach, is facing a tough problem to keep his record at its present standard—Snell and DeCesare, letter-men, are ineligible, he has lost Emerick and Stewart, his great tackles, while Fertig and Roudebush, stellar backfield men, are also gone. Ohio U. will undoubtedly again have a great team.

LEAGUE ENDS WITH SUM IN ITS TREASURY

First Time Since Recreation Ball Started That Money Remained.

If it did nothing else of any good through the entire softball season the recreation ball league for the first year in its history was ended with a balance in the treasury. The report of George E. Hammett, secretary who served without charge, shows that after all bills are paid the league still has balance of $40.50. It is planned to wipe this sum off the ledgers as soon as a softball banquet can be arranged.

The season started with $40 in the treasury with each team being assessed $5 as a franchise fee. Collections during the year amounted to $224.23 a greater part of which was gained in the benefit game for Leroy Oliver's family. A check for $150 was turned over to Miss Charlotte Phelps, district nurse, by the league to help defray expenses of the deceased ball player's family.

The receipts for the year totaled $264.23 with expenditures amounting to $223.73.

Expenses included labor on the field, mowing, wire and posts for a fence, lumber for the benches and their construction, base bags, the amount for the Oliver family,

NEW THREAT JOINS RANKS OF WELTERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The shadow of Harry Dublinsky, 24-year-old Chicago welterweight, today lay over the paths of Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin. Last night he easily defeated Tony Canzonieri, former lightweight champion, and put himself next in line for a title bout with the winner of the Ross-McClarnin welterweight championship fight here next week.

Dublinsky weighed in at 139 pounds, a 4 1-2 pound advantage over Canzonieri. A crowd of 12,000 was on hand at Ebbets field, Brooklyn.

After Canzonieri had flashed his old-time speed to take the first two rounds, Dublinsky solved the Italian's weaving style and scored, repeatedly with left jabs. In the flowers for the funeral, time and other supplies which were necessary during the entire season.

Plans have not progressed far enough to announce the date and place of the banquet but it is almost certain there will be one. Of course, the managers can vote to keep the $40.50 in the treasury with which to start next year but the agreement this season was to put all available money into a "kitty" for a ball players banquet. It is probable the backers will be asked to chip in to make up any deficit which might arise from the feed.

All players, managers, backers, league officials and umpires would be invited to the banquet. More will be announced about the affair at a later date.

sixth he opened a gash over Tony's right eye.

Canzonieri spurted momentarily in the eighth and ninth rounds but could produce no sustaining effort. He was a gory and thoroughly beaten man when the final bell sounded.

BARNEY OLDFIELD SAYS "G-3"

Read why America's most famous racing driver uses stock "G-3" tires in his daredevil exhibition at the Century of Progress. Barney Oldfield knows tires like nobody else. Take his word.

BARNEY OLDFIELD
BEVERLY HILLS, CALIFORNIA

August 1, 1934

Mr. P. W. Litchfield, President
The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.
Akron, Ohio

Dear Mr. Litchfield:

You know that I know tires...I have to know tires...my life depends upon them.

At no time during my 32 years of professional driving have I made such extreme demands upon tires as I now make, continuously, at the Chrysler and pits and test track on the Century of Progress grounds in Chicago.

The tire is one-fourth mile long. Its surface is highly abrasive and its turns are unusually severe.

Unless my tires grip doggedly... unless they are so rugged of carcass as to withstand terrific friction heat and pile driver blows... my daily exhibitions would be impossible.

And that's why I am exclusively using the famous Goodyear G-3 All-Weathers.

Since the very beginning of automobile racing, no tires have been called upon to withstand such extreme punishment. But those G-3's can take it... not a tire failure so far this season!

And they're strictly stock tires... exactly the same tires the general public buys from Goodyear dealers... whereas tires used in races such as the Memorial Day 500 mile classic and similar events are especially constructed and not sold to or suitable for the general motoring public.

I sincerely congratulate Goodyear upon having developed this really sensational new tire.

You know me,
Barney Oldfield
Barney Oldfield

P.S. Naturally I have equipped the cars driven by Mrs. Oldfield and Betty, my daughter, with G-3's.
